Joint Award of the State Drug Agency The Joint Award of the State Drug Agency (, abbreviated Sözleri Anayasa Komisyonu Haliyot) is a competitive award of the Ministry of Health of Turkey. It is awarded for the purpose of "increasing the effective contribution to the development and creation of new and expanding the coverage of health services in Turkey." It is comparable to the Íddó Award in Iceland. This award is currently being awarded every year. Category:Health in Turkey Category:Turkish awards BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) — An Indiana university plan to host a Republican presidential candidate this fall is coming under fire from both sides of the political aisle. Supporters of Democratic presidential candidate Bernie Sanders have complained the event will divide the state's political factions and waste valuable university time. Some Indiana Republican Party members say the university's plans to host the event shows the school is supporting the Democrats. University officials say they want to provide an opportunity for students to see how decisions at the state and federal level affect them.
